

TARRAGON THEATRE
Garden Circle
2026/27

Generously made possible with support from Shira Hart.

The Garden Circle at Tarragon Theatre is an opportunity for subscribers who want to get more out of their subscription. Participants will have the opportunity to go behind the scenes and discuss the play development process with others who share a passion for theatre.

The Garden Circle will get an in-depth look into the play development process and will participate in the dialogue surrounding the work we do both on stage and off. As a new work theatre, we welcome conversation with those in our community and hope to bridge the gap between artists and audiences.

Join us in celebrating our artists and be a part of the conversation surrounding the future of Canadian theatre.

Why join Tarragon's Garden Circle?

Be among the first to experience cutting edge Canadian theatre.

Go behind-the-scenes to learn more about everything we do.

Gain insight into the play development and rehearsal processes.

Connect even more fully with our 2026/27 season.

Participate in thoughtful discussions with Tarragon staff and members of the community.

Get a sneak peek of future Tarragon productions, currently in development.

Dig into the soil of new creation.

Commitment

The Garden Circle will include auxiliary events like first reads, invited dress rehearsals, and discussions with Tarragon staff and artists for the following productions:

- Prophetess written by Ho Ka Kei (Jeff Ho)
- The Night Logan Woke Up written by Michel Marc Bouchard & translated by Robert Chafe
- Call Me By My Cousin's Name written by Anahita Dehbonehie
- The Shoplifters written by Morris Panych
- You're Still Here written by Katherine Gauthier
- YAGA written by Kat Sandler

Members will also receive invitations to special readings, talks and workshops throughout the season.
